Chester Academy Faculty and Staff

The Chester Academy faculty and staff is not as large as most schools, but it is one of the best around. A small school allows for a strong bond between the students and the teachers. This truly is the place where "everyone knows your name." While that may or may not be a good thing, it does provide a level of comfort in a world that can sometimes be chaotic and confusing. So sit back and take a look at what we look at five days a week. It may not always be pretty, but without the following people, we would not have been able to achieve many of our goals.

Chester Academy Seniors Class Of 2009

It's Our Time Now!!!!

The World Of A Senior

Four years ago we stepped into high school as individuals seeking to do well, to find our identity, to find our best friend. We opened our lockers for the first time, looked at our schedules, thought about how great it was finally to be in high school. Four years ago we met our best friend; we went to our first school dance, and had our first crush on a cute senior. Four years ago we couldn't wait to get older.

Three years ago we stepped into high school believing that we owned the place. No longer the lowly freshmen, we had a new attitude. Still individuals searching for themselves, looking to fit in and wanting to achieve something. We followed our daily routines, expanded our circle of friends, and talked about parties. Three years ago we made a new best friend, went to sweet sixteen's every weekend, and we were too mature for school dances. Three years ago we couldn't wait to get older.

Two years ago we became upperclassmen. We began to realize that we were growing up. We got our licenses and started driving out on weekends. Two years ago we realized who our true friends were, and we cherished the time we spent with them. We found where we fit in, yet we still seemed to be looking for something else. Two years ago we started talking about college, thinking it was still so far away. We had our junior prom, received our rings, and realized that time really does fly. Two years ago we still couldn't wait to get older.

One year ago we entered the school as seniors. We had "senioritis" before classes even resumed. We got to leave school early and come in late. Everything we did was "the last": our last homecoming pep rally, our last season in a sport, and for some, our last birthday at home. One year ago we took our time together for granted. We went to party after party on the weekend; we rebelled, and we learned from our mistakes. One year ago, we still had the same best friends and cherished time spent with them. We started applying to colleges far and near. We got accepted; we got rejected; we found exactly where we wanted to go. We realized that we would no longer have the comfort of home within a year.

Now, we finally realize that we could have waited to get older. We realize that time has somehow slipped away; soon we will be saying good-bye to our friends, our family, our home, maybe for a short time, maybe forever. Soon we will graduate. It is the last time we will all be together as the class of 2009. We are excited about starting over, sad about what we will leave behind, and anxious to move on. Now we realize just how important our best friends are, how much fun we really did have during these four years. Now we wish we could be younger. We wish we had taken the time to appreciate every moment, to slow down time. Now we face having to say good-bye.

In one year we will return as different people. Some will have experienced dorm life, eaten campus food, and made new friends. Others will have landed their first full-time job, bought their first new car, and made new friends. In one year we will be different people, possibly still searching for our identity, our niche in the world. In one year we will know more about ourselves and where we are heading. While we remember the past, we will be making new memories, following new dreams. Yet one thing will still remain; after one year, we will still cherish the friendships of the days gone by. It was friendship that kept us strong when things were shaky; it was friendship that saw us through good times and bad, through laughter and tears, through boyfriends and girlfriends, bad grades, and family problems. Our friends showed us that life was worth enjoying. With them we wanted to grow up so quickly, yet they are the only ones with whom we will remain forever young.

Life is funny sometimes, it can push pretty hard, but if you look close enough you can find hope in the bars of a song and in the eyes of someone you love. And if you're lucky, and if you're the luckiest person on this entire planet, the person you love decides to love you back."

I don't even know where to begin. I guess I'll start with the shout outs. Joe, I don't even know where to start man. Since second grade! We went through so much stuff. Glad to have you back man. NY-Kansas. Bryan, I don't think I'll ever be able to think of any awkward scenarios without you. Matt, all I gotta say is overs, haha. Shuaib, Rich, Allyson, Teena, Scott, Amy, Brandon, Danny, Joe Sir, and of course Gabby. You guys are the best. My memories of high school will be the fondest and it's because of you....

I still can't believe it's our turn to write this...Remember when we started out at the old school? How big the seniors looked? How narrow the halls were? The same halls my parents hung out in! WEIRD! Speaking of my parents...I have to thank them and the rest of my family because sometimes I don't even want to be around me. Mario, it's been fun living next door to you...sometimes. Thank you to the teachers who made HS slightly more entertaining: Strack-osaurus, Mrs Markovits, Mr Bandura, Mrs Mig, Ms Curaba, Mr Todd, Ms Natoli, MR CLOSSL

Seriously, do you think I would forget you Mrs Dobby? You get your own sentence! [Memories] Obama '08, LIVE-Evanescence, Seether, Sick Puppies (hugging Emmal), Sweet 16's, followed by some horrible nights, living in the diner and plaza, MsE's worst study hall ever, nights in my basement, the Leann Era, LBI, band trips, Just A Buck, Subway, the back room at Joe's Videos [Dislikes] Rihanna, Sarah Palin, vacuums

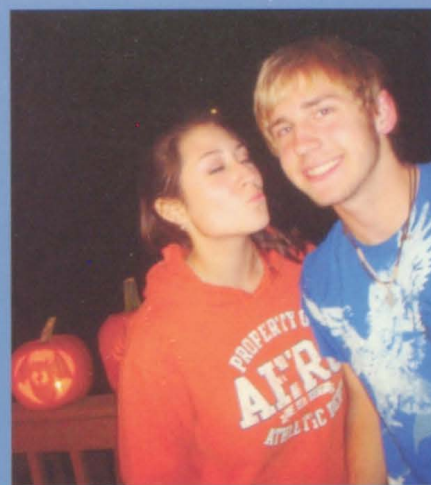

[My Friends] You know who you are, esp if you laughed at anything while reading this. Erika, you're deff going to be my maid of honor! Felicia, we have basically been inseparable. Remember when we went to Canada? Heddle, you've taught me more about myself than anybody. How do I sum up this roller coaster? I can't! Anyway, peace out Academy. It's been great. And I think I speak for the entire class of 2009 when I say...Happy Birthday Sidra!!

It seems like yesterday that I was in Elementary School thinking, I can't wait to graduate. Now I'm actually graduating and I still can't believe it. First I wanna thank my family, friends, and teachers for making my time here special and something I will never forget. There were some hilarious moments that went on during these past 13 years. I don't think that I remember all of them, but some will never leave my mind. I remember when Matt, JP, Danny, and I tormented Mr. Fogler in 9th grade and he would kick us out almost every day. I also remember Spanish class with BB, MW, SS, TC, JH, books=window, the flying tissue. Many other good times consist of halo(willy friends), sports(Mr. Demajo throwin the ball at JP, Lmao. Me kicking the baseball while at bat and the ump not letting me take my base),(<3), fishing/golfing/almost flipping over the golf cart with matt, Halloween 08 and many others. I also want to give a special shout-out to my girlfriend Kristen. <3 You've given me something special and I'm holding on to it. => Now to conclude, I want to mention many of the good friends that I have and will hopefully stay with: MW, DK, SS, WV, BB, KR, JF, TF, RS, CK, JG, TC, BZ, RM, SM, AV/ADD, ZG, JM. I have spent the past few days trying to find out what you are supposed to put in your senior write-up. I've asked teachers, fellow-students, and those who have graduated before me. I've gotten all sorts of answers, and all of them have led me to remembering the past. We are raised to believe that the old way of doing things is the correct way. We are expected to live up to what others expect of us. The World War II generation was the greatest generation, not because they did what was expected, but because they did more. To be the best, we must move beyond expectations and face challenges not yet imagined. Our generation can be the benchmark for future generations, the generation to inspire the graduates of tomorrow. To all who read these random thoughts, thank you, and here's hoping you will exceed all expectations.

It's Our Time Now

Take A Look

A large group of approximately 30 students, mostly teenagers, are posed on a grassy hill. They are arranged in several rows, some standing and some sitting or crouching. The students are wearing casual clothing like t-shirts, jeans, and shorts. In the background, a parking lot with several cars is visible. The overall scene is bright and sunny.

Growing Up

"Too many people grow up. That's the real trouble with the world, too many people grow up. They forget. They don't remember what it's like to be 12 years old"
-Walt Disney

"I've heard that it's possible to grow up - I've just never met anyone who's actually done it. Without parents to defy, we break the rules we make for ourselves. We throw tantrums when things don't go our way; we whisper secrets with our best friends in the dark; we look for comfort where we can find it, and we hope - against all logic, against all experience. Like children, we never give up hope..."

- Meredith Grey

Growing up happens in a heartbeat. One day you're in diapers; the next day you're grown. But the memories of childhood stay with you for the long haul.

The Wonder Years

For most of us, dreams come true only after they do not matter. Only in childhood do we ever have the chance of making dreams come true when they mean everything.

And as we grow up, let us not forget the great times

we see before us, for these were the best times of our lives,

Remember When...

Aurora got sick in the computer lab... Kayla fell off her crutches... Brittany and Lisamarie got in a fist fight... The 9th grade food fight (aka Taco Day)... The times before Myspace and Facebook... We were in the old school... Sean was a Spartan... Mike Curtis danced at the pep rally... The lights went out during the JV Game... The softball team went to Myrtle Beach... Lunch was $1.50... We had Field Day... Brittany and Scott were single... David Petterson ran away... Justin had pink eye... We had plastics... Shannon dropped Vic in JP's kitchen... Our school was new...

Mr. Depew stormed out of class and quit on the spot... Markovits and Cardinale rapped on the announcements... We had fire drills during every AP Bio class... It was Sidra's birthday... But it really wasn't... Ms. Hewitt was absent... Strack had a man-crush on Abe Lincoln...

B-RAD was still here...

We didn't have "senioritis"...

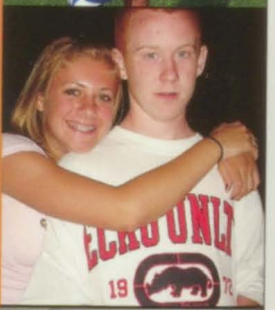

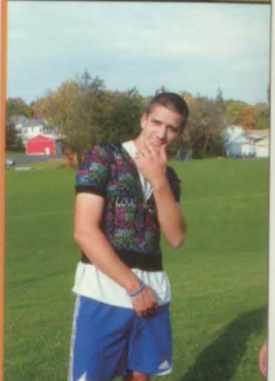

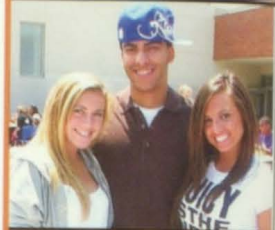

We were Freshman!

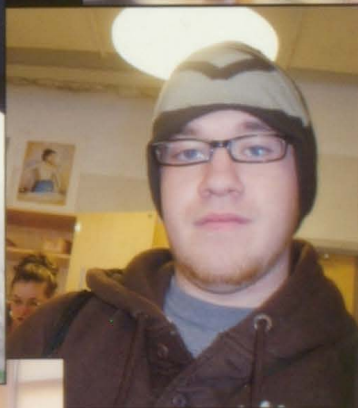

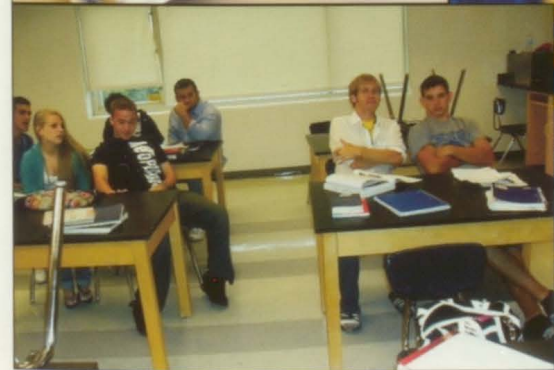

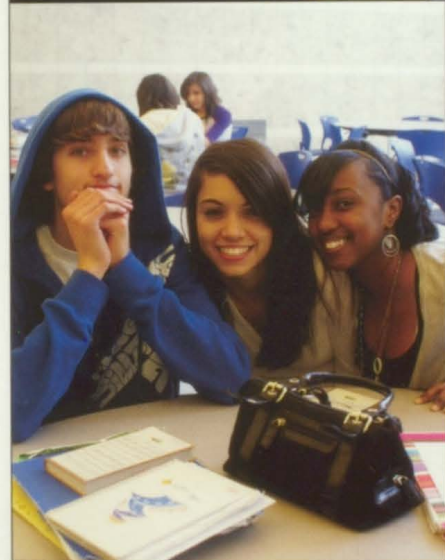

What If....

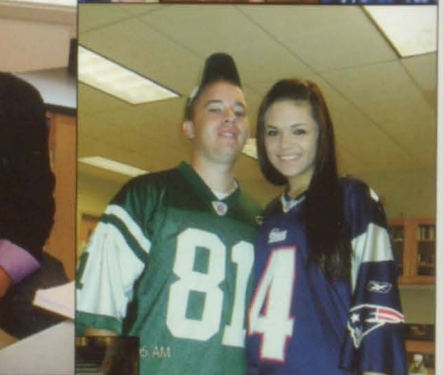

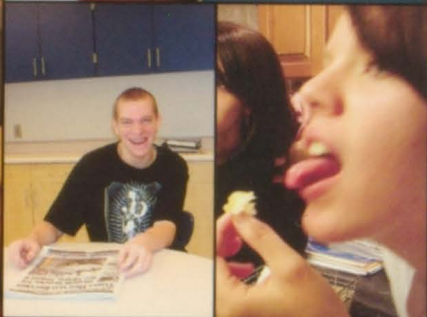

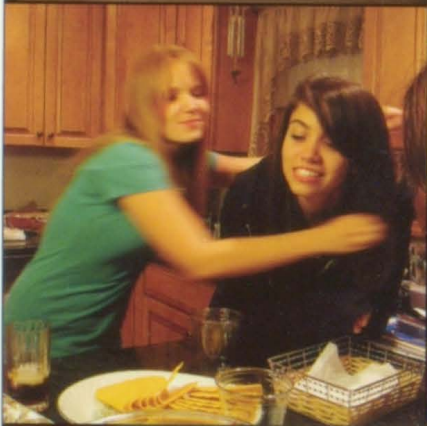

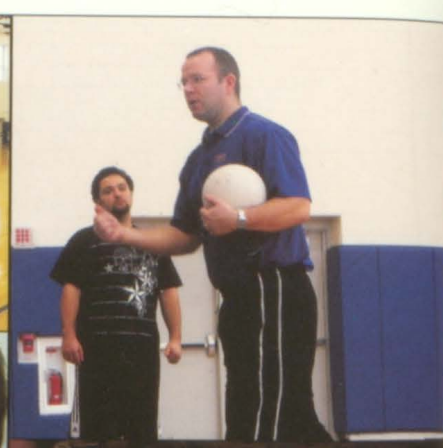

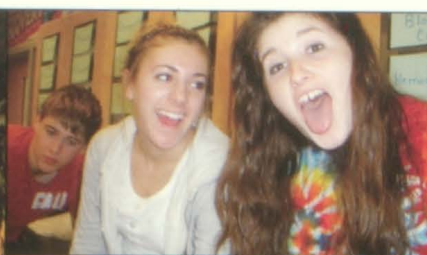

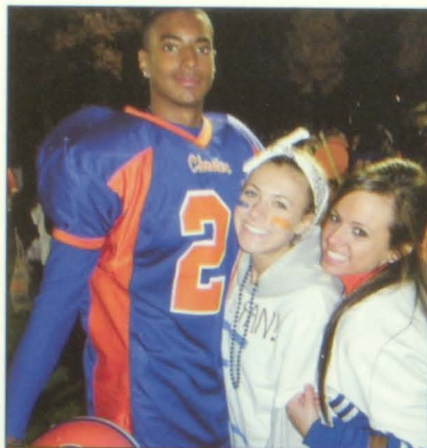

We stayed in the old high school... We didn't take AP Bio... Sean never left Florida... Justin Hernandez actually did his school work... Ash stayed in Chapel Field... Miss V. never left... Ms. Mac gave us another chance to do our work... Brittany and Scott broke up... Mr. Schweda was still our principal... We still had the food service program... Sean wore bigger shorts in gym... Ms. C. never became our class advisor... Mr. Strack never came to Chester... Chester Academy was an actual Academy... Mr. Todd was still here... We never got the senior lounge... Senora Mig never left... We didn't have the homecoming parade...

Mike became President...

Never Forget Us

Our Impact Will Last A Lifetime

We entered our senior year wanting to make an impact, and we did just that. Some of the events initiated by our class: the first dance in the Chester Academy gym, the Homecoming Parade, the first mock presidential debate, and the "renovation" of the senior lounge.

One Day It Will Be Your Time...

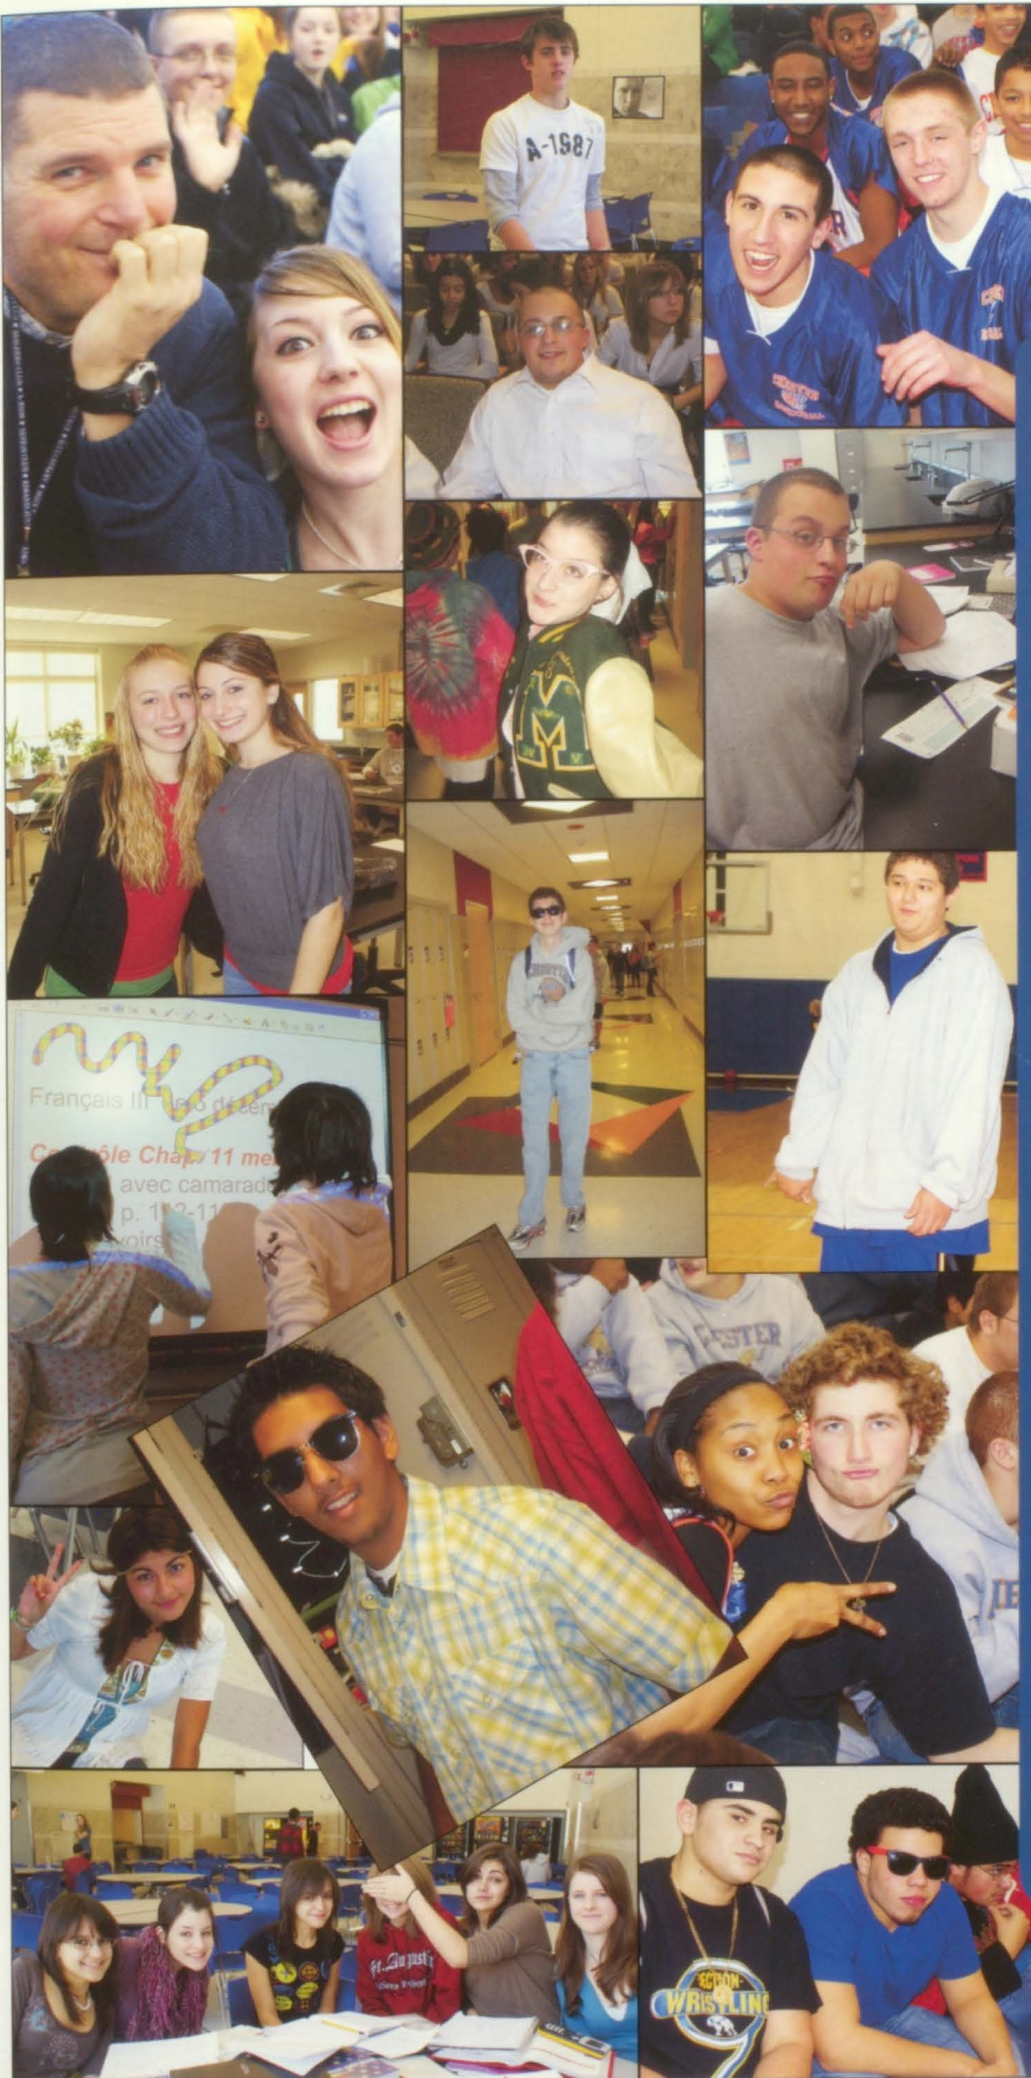

As you may have noticed, Chester Academy is a small school. Most are amazed when they hear the fact that the Academy is host to grades six through twelve. Watching students making the leap from fifth to sixth grade is a cool experience. As upperclassmen we sometimes forget that we were that young and just as nervous entering this new world. However, it doesn't take our younger students long to feel welcomed. There are many clubs and activities that foster new friendships that can last a lifetime. In addition to clubs and organizations, Chester has modified & Junior varsity sports.

Dearest Sidra,

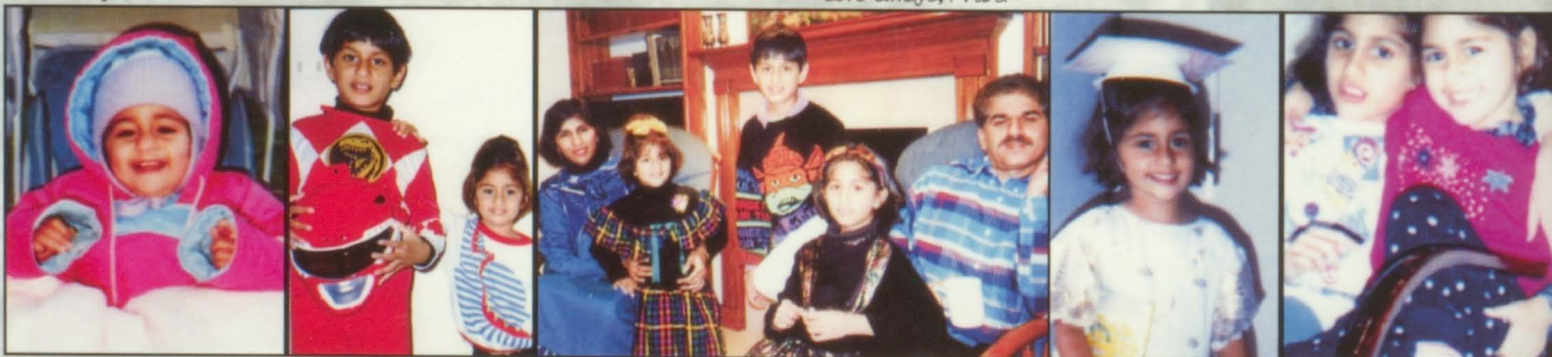

Can't believe school life is almost over and soon you will be heading to college. I am very proud of your achievements in the school & wish you great success in the future. Don't be afraid of failures either because failures are the milestones in the road of success. Have faith in God, take the challenges, work hard & diligently to succeed in the future. Remember "Knowledge is Power"

Love Always, Dad

Siddy,

I know that it's cliché when people say your sister is your best friend, but you really are. And now, generic message time: "Congrats, I am so proud of you," but frankly I'd be proud even if you tripped and fell on your face because I know you'd get right back up (aww!) Random message time: "I like that red chicken!"

Love always, Anuba

My dearest daughter Sidra,

It was a bright, sunny, beautiful, summer day when you were born. That's what you are, bright, beautiful and sunshine in our lives. You have a positive attitude and a strong loving personality. All these years you got better and better. Congratulations on a work well done, I am so proud of you and wish you success and happiness in the future. You are a good friend, loving sister and an amazing daughter. Good luck in college. I love you more than words can say.

Love, Mom

Sids,

Congratulations! Finally, the baby of the family has graduated! I'm sure you'll do well wherever you go and whatever you do!

Love, Shaigan

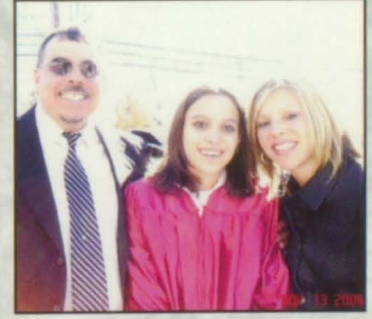

CONGRATULATIONS LEESA!

We have cherished every grade & award you have received. We know how hard you have worked to achieve all of this success. We will always be there for you. May your hopes & dreams come true. Love what you do & you'll be happy & successful. We wish you all of the success in the world. You have filled our hearts with love & joy. Lots of luck, happiness & health to you in the future. Congratulations on all your achievements, and remember "Dreams are not something to wait for, but something to work for". We are very proud of you and wish you much success and happiness in your future. Love, Mom and Christopher

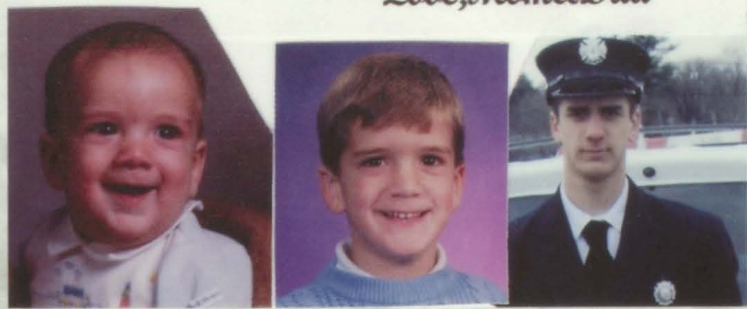

Well Ashalini it's finally here and we all made it through. There have been many bumps along the way, as I'm sure there will be in the future, but Ashley you always make it through kicking and fighting. We always said you are a feisty kid and one day it will pay off, well, we believe it has. You need to keep believing in yourself as much as we do and be the leader we know you are, work hard and great things will come your way. Keep smiling and stay passionate about life. You have a lot of angels around to help guide you through your life's journey, look to them for strength when you feel you need it, they are always there. Love, Mom, Dad & Meghan

THE REST OF THE
CLASS OF 2009

Dear Ms. Curaba,

Thank you so much for everything you have done over the past few years for us. We will always remember prom, homecoming, and our senior trip. Each of these, along with the rest of the school year was amazing. We would have been lost if it were not for the countless hours you spent planning, organizing, and coordinating all aspects of our events. We know there were times when we pushed too hard, did too little, and complained too much, but we will remember you for the rest of our lives.

Always with love,
The Class of 2009

Chester Academy Yearbook Advisor Judith Cardinale

Dear Yearbook Staff,

I remember hearing somewhere that "whenever you are asked if you can do a job, tell 'em, 'Certainly I can!' Then get busy and find out how to do it." Being an English teacher, I looked it up and found that Theodore Roosevelt once said this. I don't know why or when it was said, but it's good advice, especially for anyone taking on the role of yearbook advisor. However, TR might have added some additional wisdom, "...and find someone who can help you do it." I want to thank you all for helping me accomplish this task. I will be forever grateful to you for your patience and understanding. Many of you have been my students, but now, you have all become my teachers. Good luck. Much love.
Enjoy!
